-- The MAILING DATE of this communication appears on the cover sheet with the correspondence address --

Period for Reply

A SHORTENED STATUTORY PERIOD FOR REPLY IS SET TO EXPIRE 3 MONTH(S) OR THIRTY (30) DAYS, WHICHEVER IS LONGER, FROM THE MAILING DATE OF THIS COMMUNICATION.

- Extensions of time may be available under the provisions of 37 CFR 1.136(a). In no event, however, may a reply be timely filed after SIX (6) MONTHS from the mailing date of this communication.
- If NO period for reply is specified above, the maximum statutory period will apply and will expire SIX (6) MONTHS from the mailing date of this communication.
- Failure to reply within the set or extended period for reply will, by statute, cause the application to become ABANDONED (35 U.S.C. § 133). Any reply received by the Office later than three months after the mailing date of this communication, even if timely filed, may reduce any earned patent term adjustment. See 37 CFR 1.704(b).

Art Unit: 2133

1. Claims 3-5 and 17-19 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 112, second paragraph, as being indefinite for failing to particularly point out and distinctly claim the subject matter which applicant regards as the invention.

As per claim 3, line 1, "The method of claim3" is an improper claim. This is a claim can't be dependent on it self.

As per claims 4-5, these claims are also rejected because they dependent upon the rejected based claim.

As per claim 17, line 1, "The apparatus of claim 33" is an improper claim. This is because claim 33 does not exist.

As per claims 18-19, these claims are also rejected because they dependent upon the rejected base claim.

2. The following is a quotation of the appropriate paragraphs of 35 U.S.C. 102 that form the basis for the rejections under this section made in this Office action:

A person shall be entitled to a patent unless -

(e) the invention was described in a patent granted on an application for patent by another filed in the United States before the invention thereof by the applicant for patent, or on an international application by another who has fulfilled the requirements of paragraphs (1), (2), and (4) of section 371(c) of this title before the invention thereof by the applicant for patent.

The changes made to 35 U.S.C. 102(e) by the American Inventors Protection Act of 1999 (AIPA) do not apply to the examination of this application as the application being examined was not (1) filed on or after November 29, 2000, or (2) voluntarily published under 35 U.S.C. 122(b).

Art Unit: 2133

Therefore, this application is examined under 35 U.S.C. 102(e) prior to the amendment by the AIPA (pre-AIPA 35 U.S.C. 102(e)).

3. Claims 1-25 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(e) as being anticipated by Larson et al (2002/0042893).

As per claim 1, Larson et al teaches a method for providing redundancy and recovery for a first memory device designated primary by utilizing a second memory device designated backup, the method comprising:

detecting an uncorrectable error in data received from or send to the first memory device designated primary; and switching the designation of hte first memory device from primary to backup and the designation of the second memory device from backup to primary in response to the detecting. (See Fig. 1 and paragraph 0045).

As per claim 2, copying contents of the primary memory device to the backup memory device at specified intervals is inherent in system of Larson et al.

As per claims 3-4 and 5, Lason et al further teaches testing the momory decice now designated backup after the switching; marking pages or parts of the memory device now designated backup as bad if the testing so indicates; and notifying the control system that the memory device now designated backup is bad if the testing so indicates. (See paragraph 0049).

Art Unit: 2133

As per claims 6, 15, 20, 22 and 25, these claims are rejected under similar rationale as set forth in claim 1.

As per claims 7-14, 16, 21, and 23-24, these claims are rejected under similar rationale as set forth in claims 2-5.
